This is an interesting and colorful combination of geology and art. The show includes the Central Iowa Mineral Society brings great knowledge of geology and the ability to identify minerals and fossils. This event is family friendly, with activities, speakers, demonstrations, displays, and much more to see. What is 'lapidary?' The arts of cutting stone -- large and small. Come! You will be amazed!

The Des Moines Lapidary Society is a Non-profit Educational organization. Our mission is to promote, enjoy, and develop the study and practices of the lapidary arts – turning stone into art. The Central Iowa Mineral Society is an active participant in this event, bringing knowledge and examples of minerals and fossils.
